PART 2A - Student Athlete Personal Response

The NSA can be a challenging environment. It requires a commitment to the athletic and academic program, as well as to the broader NSA and ski community.

Below are five questions that are important for each student athlete to consider:

1. Do you have the drive to ski fast in a competitive environment?
2. Are you fully committed to your personal growth, discipline, and professionalism as an athlete?
3. Are you dedicated to your athletic development and prepared to train with purpose every day?
4. Are you accountable for your academics and committed to excellence in the classroom as well as on snow?
5. Are you committed to contributing to a cohesive, disciplined, and highly competitive team culture?

Please respond to the following:

List three words (for each) which you feel describe you as a – Person, Ski Racer, Student.

Describe the highlights of your ski racing career to date.

Describe briefly your personal, athletic and academic goals.
